Read the following Testimonials:

From D. J. FOLEY, Esq., of the firm of D. J. Foley, Bro. & Co.

BALTIMORE, February 19, 1875.

Mr. C. P. KNIGHT, No. 93 W. Lombard Street.

DEAR SIR: In reply to your enquiry relative to the merits of your "Liquid Enamel Paint," (Bradley's Patent,) I will say it has been nearly two years since I purchased the Paint from you, and so far as I am able to judge, it looks equally as well as when first applied, and I cheerfully can recommend it to those who need painting done. Yours truly, D. J. FOLEY.

PORTSMOUTH, VA., March 6, 1875.

Mr. C. P. KNIGHT, Sole Gen'l Agent, 93 W. Lombard St., Baltimore.

DEAR SIR: In reply to your inquiry of the 4th inst., wishing to know how I like the Liquid Enamel Paint, (Bradley's Patent,) manufactured by the New Jersey Liquid Enamel Paint Co., at Raritan, I will say the first of the several invoices sent me was in April, 1873, which is quite two years, and it is very gratifying for me to state that it was applied as soon as it arrived and still looks admirably; and I freely lend my name with many others to endorse all you claim for it—namely, Beauty, Durability and Economy.

Very respectfully, &c., RICH'D MULES.

From Gen. E. B. TYLER, American Steam Safe Company.

BALTIMORE, December 21, 1874.

Mr. C. P. KNIGHT, 93 W. Lombard St., Baltimore.

SIR: In the spring of 1873 I painted my house, stable and out-buildings with the LIQUID ENAMEL PAINT, (Bradley's Patent,) purchased from you, and so far it has proven to be all you claim for it, and entirely satisfactory to me. It is certainly a durable and glossy Paint, when put on properly. My buildings were painted with your Paint by G. J. Roche, who applied it as per directions, and it retains its gloss admirably; and I take pleasure in recommending it. Very respectfully, E. B. TYLER.

LAWS OF MARYLAND

RELATIVE TO THE

COLLECTION OF DEBTS.

PREPARED EXPRESSLY FOR THIS WORK.

ACTIONS.—The distinctive nature of actions at common law arising ex contractu remains, though simpler forms are used. Any declaration containing a plain statement of facts necessary to constitute a ground of action is sufficient, and any plea necessary to form a legal defense, is sufficient without reference to mere form; the fictions of the action of ejectment at common law are abolished. The enforcement of mechanics' liens is by scire facias or bill in equity.

LIMITATIONS.—Three years is the period of limitations for actions on open account, simple contract, assumpsit, replevin, rent in arrear, or trespass for injuries to real or personal property; twelve years for specialty, bonds or judgments. The right to bring suit in cases where one has been kept in ignorance of his rights by fraud of adverse party, accrues from time such fraud is discovered. Persons under twenty-one, married women, non compos, or imprisoned, can bring actions within above periods after disabilities removed; also exceptions in cases of debtors while absent from State, or removing from county to county, or absent when cause of action accrues; provided suit be brought after presence of person liable.

TESTIMONY.—No witness is incompetent on the ground of religious belief, provided he believes in God and moral accountability in this world, or a world to come; nor is any one incompetent on account of race or color. No person offered as a witness is excluded by reason of incapacity from crime (except perjury), or interest, either in person or by deposition; all parties to civil suits, themselves, their wives, or husbands, are competent witnesses in their own cases, except in proceedings instituted in consequence of adultery, or for the purpose of obtaining divorces, or in action for breach of promise of marriage.

PROOF OF CLAIMS.—In the city of Baltimore, under the act of 1864, ch. 6, (for obtaining judgment without delay), the plaintiff is required, at the time of bringing his action, to the rule days, against an existing person, to file with his declaration an affidavit or affirmation, stating the true amount that the defendant is indebted to him, over and above all discounts, and to file also the bond, bill of exchange, promissory note, or other writing or account, by which the defendant is so indebted; and the said affidavit or affirmation must be made by persons residing out of the State, before a judge of a court of record of the United States, or of any State, District or Territory of the United States; or before a commissioner appointed by the Governor of Maryland, to take acknowledgment of deeds. If made before a judge of a court of record, there must be a certificate from the clerk of said court, under seal thereof, that at the time the same was made he was a judge of said court, and that the same is a court of record; or if made before a commissioner of deeds of Maryland, the same must be certified under his official seal. In the counties, no affidavit is required to bring a suit. The attorney should be furnished with the full names of members of firms.

SERVICE—Of writs must be made by the return day, but service on the return day is sufficient. The first day of each term, and in the city of Baltimore, of each rule day, is return day. Publications against non-residents, in equity, is made once a week for four successive weeks, three months before day fixed for appearance.

ARREST—For civil obligations is abolished. The constitutional provision that "no one shall be imprisoned for debt," applies to obligations civil in their nature, and not to fines or penalties imposed by courts for a breach of the peace or the commission of a crime.

ATTACHMENTS—Are authorized in this State against any kind of property or credits belonging to the defendant in the hands of the plaintiff, or of any one else, or unoccupied real estate in cases where the defendant is, 1st, a non-resident of this State; 2d, where he absconds, and one may become an absconding debtor without leaving the State. The above attachments are issued by the clerk of court, on warrants from a judge or justice of the peace. An affidavit that defendant is bona fide indebted, and has absconded, or is a non-resident, accompanied by the evidences of indebtedness, that is, account, note, bond, etc., is required before the warrant is granted. 3d. On original process based on account, note, bond or other evidence of debt, with affidavit made before clerk of court from which attachment shall issue, that defendant named in writ is bona fide indebted, and that plaintiff knows or has reason to believe, first, that the debtor is about to abscond from this State; or, second, that the defendant has assigned, disposed of or concealed, or is about to assign, dispose of or conceal his property, or some portion thereof, with the intent to defraud his creditors; or, third, that the defendant fraudulently contracted the debt, or incurred the obligation respecting which the action is brought; or, fourth, that the defendant has removed, or is about to remove his property, or some portion thereof, out of this State with the intent to defraud his creditors. Every clerk, before issuing an attachment on original process, must take from the plaintiff, or some person on his behalf, bond to the State, with security, to be approved by the clerk in double the sum claimed, for satisfying all costs which may be awarded to such defendant, or to any other person interested, and all damages which may be recovered against the plaintiff for wrongfully suing out such attachment. 4th. Attachment on judgment or decree treated as an execution, and governed by like rules. An execution by way of attachment may issue at any time within twelve years from date of judgment. 5th. Where two summonses have been returned non est against a defendant, the plaintiff, on proof of his claim by affidavit and the production of the written evidence of debt, if any, shall be entitled to an attachment, and thereupon the proceedings are the same as against absconding debtors. 6th. Attachment, on petition and proof of debt incurred by a married woman, against her property in cases where it has been earned by her industry or skill, to value of one thousand dollars or less. 7th. In actions for illegal arrest or false imprisonment, for amount of damages claimed. Attachment proceedings are strictly construed. The salary of a public officer, or employee of a municipal corporation, or funds in hands of government due its agents, are not attachable; nor property or funds in custody of law; or under control of a court, in hands of its trustee. Wages, hire or salary not due at date of attachment, of whatever kind, cannot be attached, and the sum of ten dollars, out of what is due, is exempted. Justices of the peace have jurisdiction in attachments where the claim is under one hundred dollars.

JUDGMENTS.—A judgment of a court of record is a lien upon the real estate of the defendant in the county wherein the judgment is rendered (and it can be transferred from one county to another to bind the defendant's real estate) from the date of its rendition as well on after acquired property as that held at the date of the judgment. Also on all leasehold interests and terms of years, or chattels real of the defendants in lands, except leases from year to year, and leases for terms of not more than five years, and not renewable. Also upon the equitable interests of defendants, in lands. But a judgment is no lien upon personal property, though the execution issued thereupon becomes a lien from the time of the delivery of the writ into the hands of the sheriff. The lien of a judgment continues for twelve years, but a fi. fa. cannot issue on it after three years unless renewed by a sci. fa.

EXECUTION—May issue at any time after judgment is extended within three years from the date of such judgment, or if there be a stay, within three years after. Execution may be levied on any property of the defendant's, the exemptions as stated below excepted. Alias executions may be levied on other property or effects than that taken under the first, though the first be still outstanding.

STAY OF EXECUTION—May be entered on docket at time of rendition of the judgment, or may be by supersedeas (for six months in courts of record, and twelve months when judgment over thirty dollars, before justices of the peace,) by appeal, writ of error, or injunction.

REDEMPTION.—Whenever real estate shall be sold by a collector, the owner thereof may redeem the same by paying within two years from the date of sale to the purchaser thereof the amount paid by him to said collector, on said sale, and all taxes assessed on said real estate and paid by said purchaser since said sale and prior to such redemption, and all costs and expenses properly incurred in procuring the ratification of said sale by the circuit having jurisdiction in the premises, with interest on all said sums at the rate of fifteen per cent. from the date of their payment. The collectors are required, by act of 1870, ch. 312, to report their sales to the circuit courts, and if no cause be shown to the contrary, after due notice by publication to parties interested to appear, the same are finally ratified and confirmed.

EXEMPTIONS.—In Maryland the sheriff cannot take in execution wearing apparel, books or mechanicss' tools, (except books and tools kept for sale, and except under executions issued upon judgments for seduction or breach of promise of marriage.) He must also leave one hundred dollars' worth of other property, to be selected by the defendant, or if one hundred dollars' worth cannot be conveniently set aside, pay him one hundred dollars out of the proceeds of sale. A chose in action cannot be taken, nor a lien coupled with possession, nor any intangible property, whether real or personal, except stocks. Equitable interests in personal property cannot be taken in execution. The course is for the creditor to cause his execution to be levied and returned, and then go into equity.

LIEN LAW—MECHANICS' LIENS.—All buildings erected, repaired, rebuilt or improved, to the extent of one fourth of their value; all machines, or houses, or bridges erected, constructed or repaired in this State, and all boats or other vessels built, equipped or repaired, are subject to the liens of the mechanics or other persons who have done the work or furnished the materials. To secure the lien and lay a foundation for enforcing it, the mechanic or material-man must, within six months after the last work has been done, file a claim in the superior court for the city of Baltimore, or in the circuit court for some county. The claim is to be recorded in a book kept for that purpose. These claims may be enforced by scire facias or by bill in equity. No scire facias must issue within fifteen days of the return day, in the city of Baltimore, nor within thirty days in a county. The lien shall expire at the end of five years from the day on which it was filed, unless renewed by scire facias. In the case of a boat or vessel, the claim must be filed within six months from the commencement of the work, and the lien continues for two years only. Kent, Charles, Calvert and St. Mary's counties are exempted from the laws relating to mechanics' liens, except so far as they apply to boats or vessels.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE ESTATE OF PERSONS DECEASED.—Maryland Code, Art. 93, provides that no administrator shall discharge any claim against his decedent, (otherwise than at his own risk,) unless the same be first passed by the orphans' court granting the administration, or unless the said claim shall be proved according to the following rules:

The voucher or proof of a judgment or decree shall be a short copy thereof under seal, attested by the clerk of the court where it was obtained, who shall certify that there is no entry or proceeding in the court to show that the said judgment or decree hath been satisfied. There shall likewise be a certificate of some person authorized to administer an oath indorsed on or annexed to a statement of the debt due on such judgment or decree, that the creditor since the death of the deceased hath taken before him the following oath to wit: "That he hath not received any part of the sum for which the judgment or decree was passed, except such part (if any) as is credited;" and if the creditor on the judgment or decree be an assignee of the person who obtained it, the oath shall go on and say, further, "and that to the best of his knowledge or belief, no other person hath received any parcel of the said sum except such part (if any) as is credited;" and an assignee shall also produce the assignment under the hand of the assignor; and if there be more than one assignment, each assignment shall be produced under the hand of the party.

In case of a specialty, bond, note or protested bill of exchange, the vouchers shall be the instrument of writing itself or a proved copy, in case it be lost, with a certificate of the oath made as aforesaid since the death, and indorsed on or annexed to the instrument, or a statement of the claim, "that no part of the money intended to be secured by such instrument hath been received, or any security or satisfaction given for the same except what (if any) is credited.

If the creditor on such instrument be an assignee, there shall be the same oath of the original creditor with respect to the time of the assignment, and in case of successive assignees, there shall be the same oath taken by each with respect to the time of each respective assignment.

In case of a bill of exchange, the protest and other things which would be required (if the deceased were alive), shall be necessary to justify an executor or administrator in making payment or distribution.

The vouchers or proofs of any claim on open account shall be a certificate of an oath, taken by the creditor since the death, indorsed on or annexed to the account, that "the account as stated is just and true, and that he hath not received any part of the money stated to be due, or any security or satisfaction for the same, except what (if any) is credited;" and moreover, the account shall appear to have been proved, as open accounts are required to be proved by article thirty-seven of the Maryland Code.

Every administrator shall render to the orphans' court of the county in which he shall have obtained letters of administration, within the period of twelve months from the date of such letters, the first account of his administration.

If the first account shall not show the estate which was on hand to be fully administered, another account shall be returned with six months thereafter; and within every term of six months thereafter an account shall be returned, until the estate shall appear to be fully administered; and whenever a discovery or receipt of assets shall take place after rendering an account, another account shall be rendered within six months thereafter but an administrator shall not be obliged to render accounts when it appears to the court that the estate has been fully administered, except as to debts which the court shall deem desperate.

DESCENT.—Inheritance of estates in fee simple, fee simple conditional, and fee tail general in Maryland is as follows:

If the estate descended on the part of the father—

1. To the children of the intestate and their descendants equally. If no child or descendant and the estate descended to the intestate on the part of the father, then to the father; if no father living, then to the brothers and sisters of the intestate of the blood of the father and their descendants equally.

2. If there be no brother or sister, or descendant from them, then to the grandfather on the part of the father; if no such grandfather living, then to the descendants of such grandfather and their descendants in equal degree, equally; if no descendants of such grandfather, then to the father of such grandfather; if none such living, then to the descendants of the father of such grandfather in equal degree, and so on, passing to the next lineal male paternal ancester, and if none such, to his descendants in equal degree without end.

3. If no paternal ancestor or descendant from such ancestor, then to the mother of the intestate; if no mother living, then to her descendants in equal degree, equally; if no mother living and no descendants from her, then to the maternal ancestors and their descendants in the same manner as above directed, as to the paternal ancestors and their descendants.

If the estate descended on the part of the mother:—

4. If the estate descended to the intestate on the part of the mother, and the intestate shall die without any child or descendant, then the estate shall go to the mother; if no mother living, then to the brothers and sisters of the intestate, of the blood of the mother and their descendants in equal degree, equally.

5. And if no such brother or sister, or descendant from them, then to the grandfather on the part of the mother; if none such, then to the descendants of such grandfather, and so on to the next maternal ancestry and descendants, as above prescribed, as to the paternal ancestry and its descendants. On the failure of that maternal ancestry and their descendants, then to the father; if none, then to his descendants in equal degree, equally; if no father living, or descendants from such father, then to the paternal ancestors and their descendants, in the same manner as is above directed, as to the maternal ancestors.

If the estate be vested by purchase or any other manner than herein before mentioned:

6. And if the estate be vested in the intestate by purchase, or shall descend to or vest in him in any other manner than as hereinbefore mentioned, and there be no child or descendant of such intestate, then the estate shall descend to the brothers and sisters of the intestate of the whole blood and their descendants in equal degree, equally; if no brother or sister of the whole blood or descendant from them, then to the brothers and sisters of the half blood and their descendants in equal degree, equally.

7. If no brother or sister of the whole or the half blood, or any descendant from them, then to the father; if no father living, then to the mother; if no mother living, then to the grandfather on the part of the father; if no such grandfather living, then to the descendants of such grandfather in equal degree, equally: if no such grandfather or any descendant from him, then to the grandfather on the part of the mother; if no such grandfather, then to his descendants in equal degree, equally; and so on, without end, alternating the next male paternal ancestor and his descendants, and the next male maternal ancestor and his descendants, and giving preference to the paternal ancestor and his descendants.

Where there are no descendants or kindred of the intestate:—

8. And if there be no descendants or kindred of the intestate as aforesaid to take the estate, then it shall go to the husband or wife as the case may be; if the husband or wife be dead, then to his or her kindred in the like course as if such husband or wife had survived the intestate, and then had died entitled to the estate by purchase; if the intestate has had more husbands or wives than one, and all shall die before such intestate, then the estate shall be equally divided among the kindred of the several husbands or wives in equal degree, equally. The above are the principal provisions of the Maryland law of inheritance; there are further provisions as to advancement; heirs in esse and after-born; whole blood and half blood; and representation among ascendants and collaterals.

Distribution.—Of Personal Property.—1. If the intestate leave a widow and no child, parent, grandchild, brother or sister, or the child of a brother or sister, the widow shall be entitled to the whole of the distributive surplus of the intestate's personal estate.

2. If there be a child, or children, or descendants of a child, the widow shall have one-third.

3. If there be no child, or descendants of the intestate, but if he shall leave a father or mother, or brother or sister, or child of a brother or sister, the widow shall have one-half.

4. The surplus (exclusive of the widow's share, or the whole surplus, if there be no widow) shall be equally divided amongst the children, if there be no other descendant; and the children of the intestate's children, and his descendants, shall share with his children per stirpes. Any advancement by the intestate by settlement or portion, shall be taken into account in determining the share of any child or descendant.

5. Next to children and descendants of the intestate, the father succeeds; if there be no father, then the brothers and sisters of the whole and half blood indiscriminately, and children or descendants of such brothers and sisters per stirpes take the surplus.

6. The mother is next in the order of succession to the whole surplus. But the law further declares that if there be no father, a mother shall have an equal share with the brothers and sisters of the deceased and their children and descendants.

7. All collateral relations in equal degree next take; but no representation amongst them is allowed and no distinction observed between the whole and half blood.

8. If there be no collaterals entitled, a grandfather may take, and if there be two grandfathers, they shall both take alike; and a grandmother, in case of the death of her husband (the grandfather), shall take as he might have done.

9. Posthumous children of intestate take as if they had been born before the intestate's decease. But no other posthumous relation is considered as entitled to distribution in his own right.

10. If there be no widow or relations of the intestate within the fifth degree, which degree is reckoned by counting down from the common ancestor to the more remote of the two (namely, the decedent and the relation), the whole surplus shall belong to the State.

11. If any person entitled to distribution shall die before it is made, his share shall go to his representatives.

Illegitimate children can inherit from their mother or from each other.

Property of Married Women.—If a married woman die intestate and leaving children, her husband shall have a life estate in her property, real and personal; but if she die intestate leaving no children, her husband shall have a life estate in her real property, and her personal property shall vest in him absolutely.

Corporations—Are formed by proceedings in the courts under a general incorporation law. By acts of 1872, chaps. 203–325, it is provided that stockholders shall be severally and individually liable to the creditors of the corporation, to an amount equal to the amount of stock held by them respectively, for all debts and contracts made by the corporation, until the whole amount of the capital stock fixed and limited by the corporation shall have been paid in and a certificate thereof filed; but no stockholder shall be individually liable to the creditors, except to the amount of his unpaid subscription to the capital stock.

Divorce—Is within the jurisdiction of courts of equity. Marriages are dissolved a vinculo matrimonii for the canonical causes of impediment existing previous to marriage; for adultery; for abandonment for three years; for fornication by wife before marriage. The court may decree that the guilty party shall not marry during life-time of the other. Divorces a mensa et thoro are decreed for vicious conduct, cruelty of treatment, abandonment and desertion. The court has power to award to the wife the property she had when married, or the value of the same, and also to provide for the custody and guardianship of the children. The court will award alimony when a divorce is decreed. Alimony pendente lite, or apart from divorce, is also allowed.

RIGHTS OF MARRIED WOMEN.—A married woman may acquire, hold and manage separate real and personal estate without the intervention of a trustee, free from liability for the debts of her husband, unless the same be acquired from the husband in prejudice of his creditors; but such separate property is liable for her own debts. She must convey real or personal estate by joint deed with the husband, but may devise the same by last will and testament as if she were a feme sole; she may relinquish dower by separate deed, or jointly with her husband. A married woman insuring the life of her husband may, upon his death receive the amount of the insurance for her own use, free from any claim of the legal representatives or creditors of the husband.

An obligation to bind the separate estate of a married woman in equity must show upon its face some evidence of the intent to charge the estate, or there must be evidence aliunde tending to prove such intent.

By act of 1872, a married woman can be sued jointly with her husband on a note, bill of exchange, etc., contract or agreement executed jointly with him; judgments in such cases may be collected as if defendants were not husband and wife.

INTEREST.—The legal rate of interest is six per cent. per annum. The legislature has power to provide otherwise. Usurious contracts cannot be enforced for the excess above the legal rate.

TAX LAW.—By the Maryland code, all real and personal property, all chattels, real and personal, in fact, every description of property, is liable to assessment and taxation, except as therein exempted. General schedules of all property and things liable to assessment and taxation, and also of all exemptions, will be found in Art. 81, secs. 2, 3, and 4 of that code. No person, who is not assessed to the amount of fifty dollars, is required to pay tax—there being no poll tax in the State The state comptroller is charged with the superintendence and enforcement of the prompt collection of all taxes.

EXECUTION OF WILLS.—To make a valid will of real estate, a party must be, if a male, of the age of twenty-one years, and if a female, eighteen years, and of sound and disposing mind and capable of executing a valid deed or contract; such wills must be attested and subscribed, in the presence of the testator, by at least three credible witnesses.

Wills of personal property are valid without witnesses

MORTGAGES—Are executed, acknowledged, and recorded as deeds. They contain a power, authorizing sale on non-fulfillment of conditions. In the city of Baltimore, under a public local law, a decree for sale is first obtained before sale, from the court of equity; trustee is appointed by court, and gives bond, advertises property for sale, and reports to court after sale for ratification. In the counties, the mortgagee or other person named in deed, sells under the power in mortgage, after notice by publication, also bonds before sale, and reports his sale to court of equity on ratification.

CHATTEL MORTGAGES—Are in use, and in practice are tantamount to bills of sale.

TRUST DEEDS—In the nature of mortgages, are unusual.

AFFIDAVITS.—No particular form is required for ordinary affidavits. They may be made before a notary public, or a commissioner of deeds for Maryland. The official character should be carefully authenticated; the affidavit in attachment cases and under act of 1864, (an act for dispatch of business in the Baltimore city courts in obtaining judgment without delay at rule days: see court calendar for Maryland) must be as stated under Proof of Claims above.

RECORDING.—Deeds and mortgages must be recorded within six months from date in the county or city in which the land affected lies; and when acknowledged and recorded, shall take effect as between the parties from date. Any deed, except mortgages, may be recorded after the time, and when so recorded shall have, as against the grantor, etc., and against all purchasers with notice, and against creditors of grantor become so after recording, the same validity as if recorded in time. Registration of deed imports notice to all; and actual knowledge of an unrecorded deed is equivalent to registration. Registration of a deed defectively acknowledged cannot affect a bona fide purchaser without notice.

DEEDS.—No estate of inheritance or freehold, or any declaration or limitation of use, or any estate for above seven years, shall pass or take effect, unless the deed conveying the same shall be executed, acknowledged, and recorded as hereinafter provided, and all such deeds shall be acknowledged before some one of the following officers:

If acknowledged within the State, the acknowledgment may be made before a justice of the peace, judge of the orphans' court or of the circuit court of any county, or before the judge of the superior court, court of common pleas, or circuit court for Baltimore city, If acknowledged before a justice of the peace within the State, but out of the county or city in which the real estate or any part of it lies, the official character of the justice must be certified to by the clerk of the circuit or superior court under his official seal.

If acknowledged without this State, but within the United States, the acknowledgment may be made before: 1st, a notary public; 2d, a judge of any court of the United States; 3d, a judge of any court of any State or territory having a seal; 4th, a commissioner of this State to take the acknowledgment of deeds.

If acknowledged without the United States, the acknowledgment may be made before any minister or consul of the United States; any notary public or a commissioner of this State to take acknowledgment of deeds.

Every officer, before whom any acknowledgment shall be made, shall give a certificate thereof, and endorse on, or annex to the deed, such certificate, and the certificate shall be recorded with the deed.

To every certificate of acknowledgment taken without this State, before a judge of any court having a seal, the seal of such court shall be affixed.

The certificate of acknowledgment shall contain the name of the person making the acknowledgment; the official style of the officer taking the acknowledgment; the time when it was taken, and a statement that the grantor acknowledged the deed to be his act, or made an acknowledgment to the like effect.

No separate examination of a married woman is required.

All deeds conveying real estate, which shall contain the names of the grantor and grantee, or bargainor or bargainee, a consideration, in cases where a consideration is necessary to the validity of a deed, and a description of the real estate, sufficient to identify the same with reasonable certainty, and the interest or estate intended thereby to be conveyed, shall be sufficient, if executed and acknowledged as above, and duly recorded within the prescribed time as above stated. Where the land lies in more than one county, or in the city of Baltimore and a county or counties, the deed must be recorded in each of them.

Every deed conveying real estate shall be signed and sealed by the grantor or bargainor, and attested by at least one witness.

No words of inheritance are necessary to create an estate in fee-simple. The word "grant" in a deed is sufficient to convey the whole interest and estate of the grantor in the lands therein named. The words "bargain and sell" are sufficient in a bill of sale or mortgage of personal property. A scroll answers for a Seal.

BALTIMORE, MD.

Make a Specialty of

STEAM BOILERS,

Oil Tanks, Lard Kettles,

SOAP PANS, SUGAR PANS,

BATH BOILERS,

SMOKE STACKS, OIL STILLS,

STORAGE TANKS, GAS HOLDERS,

AND EVERY VARIETY OF PLATE IRON WORK.

Our Works have recently been fitted with new and very expensive Machinery, whereby a GREAT IMPROVEMENT is effected in the manufacture of BOILERS, TANKS, &c., producing more close and perfect workmanship with greater rapidity and less cost. All plates are PLANED to the proper bevel for caulking, so that the objectionable practice of splitting the edges of plates to save the expense of chipping the bevel by hand is avoided, and LESS PRESSURE is required in caulking to make the work tight. THE PUNCHING is done so perfectly exact as not to require the use of Drift-pin or Reamer, consequently the seams of Boilers are less liable to crack by use and greater safety and durability is obtained.

The process of Chipping although much better than that of Splitting, is also objectionable. It is difficult to bevel the edge of a plate of boiler-iron and carry the chisel so nicely as not to cut or injure the lower plate more or less. In this way a Channel is often cut entirely through the Skin of the Iron, which renders the Plate weak at the point of the greatest strain. Experiments show that a slight channel cut across a Bar or Plate of Iron greatly weakens it. This objection we have also done away with by the introduction of our Plate-Planer. The only one in Baltimore except at the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road Shops for private use.

Particular attention paid to the construction of Cylinder, Return Flue, Locomotive and Vertical Tubular Boilers. Our Senior Partner having introduced the Upright Tubular Boiler to the public in its present form, and been its almost exclusive manufacturer for more than thirty years, until quite recently, deems it but just to say that our facilities and experience in the manufacture or use of these Boilers are unequalled by any other makers.

All kinds of Steam Fittings, Wrought Iron Pipe, Steam and Water Gauges, Gauge Cocks, Steam Valves, Safety Valves, &c., furnished at the lowest market prices.

Will contract to furnish Steam Engines, Shafting, Pulleys, &c., and will furnish Drawings and Estimates at short notice.

Persons in want of work in our line are invited to call and examine for themselves the advantages we offer. NEW and SECOND-HAND BOILERS always on hand. Particular attention will be paid to orders for repairing old work. Castings of every description furnished at the lowest market rates. Send for Circular. P. O. Box 737.
